MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Dear Learners

Welcome to our Master of Business Administration (MBA) Program. The School of Business of Bangladesh Open University (BOU) offers a challenging curriculum, which provides opportunities for academic achievement, personal growth, and professional development. We aim to equip our students with the personal learning and business skills that will enable them to grasp career opportunities in management and face business challenges with confidence. The School has launched this MBA program in August 1998. Since launching, this MBA program is successfully meeting the needs of today's students towards the management challenges and responsibilities of the future.

You would be glad to know that the School of Business of BOU is offering an MBA Program with a major in five (5) specialized disciplines (Marketing, Human Resource Management, Accounting and Information Systems, Finance & Banking, and International Development Economics) from 141- Semester.

As a student of our MBA program, you are receiving this handbook only once after getting yourself admitted into the program and you need this handbook throughout the program. Therefore, you are advised to keep this handbook in a safe place. In this handbook, the detailed outline of the courses of the MBA program of the School has been furnished along with the necessary instructions relating to this program. By going through this handbook, you will get a clear idea about the academic activities relating to our MBA program and also about the important things you will have to do in different semesters. The School suggests you read this handbook carefully before starting your studies.

At the beginning of each semester, you will receive a Semester Calendar. Important deadlines for relevant activities will be mentioned in this Semester Calendar and such dates and schedules will not be changed except in unavoidable circumstances. You are advised to be careful enough to complete all the necessary activities related to the program on time. It will be very unfortunate if you fail to follow the program schedule because we are totally incapacitated to allow you any kind of flexibility on such issues.

Dear students, MBA is a prestigious program. Quality assurance in this program is very crucial. We are trying our level best to provide you with quality materials and services so that you can receive the best business education. Your valuable suggestions will help us to improve and update the MBA program continuously. For any query relating to our MBA program, you may write us without any hesitation to the following address (with duly stamped return envelope):

You must remember that open and distance education is based on a self-learning approach. There is no traditional classroom teaching in this system; however, we provide a limited number of tutorial services at the specific Study Centers on specific Fridays. Tutorial session plays a crucial role in the learning system. To optimize your learning outcome and/or to have a satisfactory score in the exam, you must attend the tutorial sessions and appear at the class test(s) to be held by the respective course teacher. You are also asked to go through the text materials supplied/prescribed by the School and then come to your Study Center (SC) to discuss the unclear/difficult parts of the lessons with the tutor as well as the fellow students in groups. As a distant learner, you are required to follow the schedule of the School as provided in the Semester Calendar. The School is managing its programs throughout the country. Any change in the specified schedule is difficult and expensive to communicate with every stakeholder. In addition to some strict rules for a distant learner, you can enjoy some flexibility on the following grounds:

- ◆ You can select your own place and suitable time for study;
- ◆ You can attend the tutorial sessions at any specified Study Center of the School.
- ◆ You can register in a minimum of two and a maximum of six courses that are offered in a semester;
- ◆ You can appear at the semester-end examination at any examination center of the School through the duly submitted Examination Registration Form;
- ◆ You can re-appear at the Semester-end Examination for additional two times in the subsequent available semesters for each registered course through the duly submitted Examination Registration Form along with the redo Examination fee.

However, you may not have any flexibility in the following areas:

- ◆ You must submit your Assignments for the registered courses in the current semester;
- ◆ You have to submit your Assignments on or before the specified due dates to your respective Study Center Coordinator;
- ◆ You have to submit the completed Examination Registration Form in due time to appear at the semester-end final examination; and
- ◆ On the reasonable ground, you may apply for transfer from one Study Center to another Study center; however, you cannot apply for transfer before Phone: 88-02-9291106 (off.) successfully completing the courses of the first and the second levels of the program.

You may ask for any kind of cooperation from us at any time. Your patience, good behavior, and sincerity will reflect the image of the MBA program and the university as a whole.

You will get different FORMS, from page # 23 to page # 30 of this handbook. Do not use those forms directly in this book. You have to Use the photocopy of those forms considering the necessity of those forms for various purposes from time to time. However, on submission of your assignments, you have to take the signature of the concerned SC Coordinator on the Assignment Acknowledgement Form provided (use photocopy) in this handbook (page#23)

I wish you every success in your studies and hope that your study-time in BOU will be productive and enjoyable.

Thanking you.

BANGLADESH OPEN UNIVERSITY (BOU)

Bangladesh Open University (BOU) has been established on October 20, 1992, by an act of the Parliament with the objective of transforming the country's vast human resources into an educated and trained workforce by extending them a wide range of academic programs, both formal and non-formal. BOU's programs are aimed at everyone, particularly working people and those socially disadvantaged groups who cannot enroll in conventional on-campus universities. The Academic Body of the University consists of six Schools and each School is an inter-disciplinary body of academics. Several administrative divisions are there to support the academic programs of the University. There are twelve Regional Centers (RCs) and eighty Sub-Regional Centers (SRCs) of BOU working throughout the country to reach the doorstep of the students at different regions through a wide variety of distance education programs. BOU extends learning opportunities to people across the country. It allows you to choose home as your campus and integrate learning into the adaptable and self-determined schedule. It is hoped that the commitment of BOU to distance learning will provide you the opportunities for academic achievement, personal growth, and professional development. You may visit www.bou.edu.bd to know more about BOU.

CONVENTIONAL SYSTEM AND DISTANCE EDUCATION SYSTEM

Conventional system and Open & Distance Learning (ODL) system are two different approaches to reach the student. In the conventional education system, students are being educated in an on-campus environment where teachers deliver their lectures as per the regular class schedule in face-to-face interaction. That is a teacher-centered approach and students enjoy little or no flexibility in the class and examination schedules. In a conventional system, institutions are closely controlling and monitoring their students. Such students have to go to the campus every working day and attend classes regularly. They have to be regular students and probably have to depend on others to support them. Students can enjoy frequent face-to-face interaction with teachers but they have to complete specific courses in a specific time period.

In an open and distance education system, students are not required to attend class regularly. This off-campus system facilitates them to learn at their home/workplace through providing them with specially designed learning materials. Audio and video programs will help them to understand the difficult sections of their text. In near future, from BOU they will also be able to get the facilities of teleconferencing, e-mail, Internet, etc. In this multi-media-based education system, they will be able to use their own time and commitment. They can also enjoy the benefits of tutorial services where they come to solve the problems they face while studying their learning materials and/or while preparing their assignments. Attendance in such tutorial classes is optional. At the same time, this system has much more flexibility than the conventional system to accommodate them within their own time, place, and pace to learn. Only students' self-learning attitude will definitely ensure their benefits in this system.

Course Registration in Each Semester

In the due time of each semester, you have to complete the requirements for registration only for the courses you will take in the relevant semester. You can take six courses to the maximum in a semester subject to the offering of the courses by the School in that semester. If you want to continue in a semester, you are required to register in at least 2 (two) courses in a semester. However, if you think it's difficult to continue in a semester, you may take a break in that semester, and that must be communicated to the Dean, SOB.

ACADEMIC YEAR AND SEMESTERS

Academic Year and Semesters of the Program

The academic year of the program shall start from April of each calendar year and shall end in March of the next year. A tentative schedule of the activities in each academic year shall be divided into two semesters as follows (you may find little variation from this tentative schedule):

Yearly Semester	Duration	Registration	Tutorials	Final Exam
First semester (1 st Level & 3 rd Level)	April – September	April	May-August	September
Second semester (2 nd Level & 4 th Level)	October – March	October	November–February	March

During the four-month time of tutorial sessions, you have to go through your course materials and submit two assignments for every registered course on or before the due dates as specified in the pertinent Semester Calendar.

Please remember for the courses registered in a semester by you, the assignments of those registered courses are to be submitted in the particular semester. Otherwise, you will get a 'zero' for the assignments of those courses.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

You are not required to communicate frequently to get all the information about the program. The school will provide you a set of instructional materials, which will provide you the necessary information relating to the current and next semesters. You are requested to go through the instructional materials carefully. Please don't hesitate to contact the RC and/or School if it becomes difficult to understand any part of the instructional materials.

Components of Instructional Materials

At the time of your admission into the MBA program, you will get this Student Handbook. All registered students are requested to read and keep this student Handbook for further references. During the period of offering MBA program under the distance education system, the School will supply the following instructional materials to every registered student at the beginning of each semester:

- Semester Calendar
- Text Book(s) for the course(s) registered in the semester supplied/prescribed by BOU.
- Assignments for the courses registered in the semester

You have to collect the above materials at the time of registration if no other specific date is mentioned for the distribution of those materials.

In addition to the above instructional materials, you are required to purchase the textbook on your own accord as mentioned in the semester calendar.

After collecting the instructional materials, you should do the following things:

- Read the Semester Calendar carefully and memorize the deadline for different activities that you have to do during the semester. For example Assignment submission dates, Exam. Registration date, Course registration date for the next semester, and so on.
- Start reading the textbook provided for each registered course. If you face any problems while understanding the text, make a list of those problems. While reading your textbook, be sure that you are within the course outline as provided in this handbook. The syllabuses for the courses are provided at the end of this handbook (see pages 32- 53)
- You have to complete the total syllabus in 12-week time. Therefore, divide the total syllabus by considering the total time you have before the final examination. Try to study at least one chapter of your text in a week for every 3- credit course you have taken in a semester.
- Read the assignment questions of each course and prepare the assignment paper. Make a list of the problems you may face in preparing the assignments.
- Participate in the tutorial classes to discuss and to get the solution to the problems you have faced and noted down while understanding the next and preparing the assignments.

TUTORIAL SERVICES

Study Centers and Tutors

Study Center is the academic contact point for you where you can receive tutorial services. The School makes arrangements for tutorial sessions for selected courses at different Study Centers throughout the country. You can get the name of those Study Centers from Semester Calendar along with the dates and times of the tutorial sessions at respective Study Centers. You can attend the tutorial sessions at any of the different Study Centers. Tutors are experienced enough to guide you in developing your study plan.

Tutorial Sessions

During the period in each semester fourteen (14) tutorial sessions for every course will be arranged on specific Fridays at the specified Study Centers. The schedule of the tutorial classes of different Study Centers will be given in the Semester Calendar, which can be collected from the respective RC at the beginning of each semester. Generally, tutorial classes of the School start at 8:00 am and continue up to 01:00 pm on specific Fridays. In few Study Centers, tutorial sessions are arranged from 2:30 pm to 7:30 pm on specific Fridays. Regular attendance in the tutorial classes is now compulsory to have the attendance and class performance marks and to have the topics clear by the tutors. As a registered student of the School, you will enjoy the facility of participating in any tutorial class at any Study Center designated for this MBA Program.

Unlike the regular classes/lectures in the conventional educational institutions tutorial classes in the open and distance education system are different. Tutors in the tutorial classes are expected to solve the problems you face while you are going through the text materials of the MBA Program. The only way to make the tutorial classes more effective is to study ahead of the suggested text materials of the program at your own place and time and then by preparing yourself ready with identified specific problems to be asked in the next tutorial class. A tutor may divide each course into fourteen sections to discuss in fourteen tutorial classes and you should follow the sequence in asking questions.

STUDENT EVALUATION

Evaluation Procedure

For the completion of a course, you have to go through an evaluation procedure of the School. For each course, you will be evaluated within 100 (hundred) marks, distributed as:

- ☞ Attendance and Class Performance (5+5) = 10 marks
- ☞ Two (2) Assignments (10+10) = 20 marks
- ☞ One (1) Semester-end Examination (5×14) = 70 marks

Attendance and Class Performance

For a better understanding of the topic and for having a satisfactory mark in-class tests and final exams every enrolled student has to attend the tutorial class duly. If a student fails to attend the class test, s/he can contact her or his tutor for taking part in another test within the semester but before the final examination.

Assignments

Assignments are a part of the evaluation system and it covers 20% marks of each course. During the semester, on or before the specified due dates, you must submit two (2) assignments for every course you have registered in that semester, even if you have decided not to appear at the semester-end final examination of that course(s). Otherwise, you will get a 'zero' (0) in assignments for that course. The School will not allow the submission of assignments of registered courses after the current semester. Deadline dates for submission of assignments and other necessary details will be mentioned in the relevant Semester Calendar.

Please note: If it is proved that any student prepares and submits her/his assignments by copying, either partly or fully, from another student's assignments, the evaluator may mark 'zero (0)' to both the assignments and any necessary action may be taken against such students as per rules of BOU.

Assignments are set to judge the analytical competence of the learners about the specific area(s) of the course. You can collect necessary hints from your course materials and also from the respective tutor. However, you have to prepare your assignments by yourself and submit those to the respective Study Center (SC) Coordinator of your Study Center.

- ☞ Important: Use the relevant ASSIGNMENT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT FORM as provided on page 23 of this handbook and collect the signature of the respective SC Coordinator on the relevant form at the time of submission of your assignments. Use the photocopy of the Assignment Acknowledgement Form separately for each level.

If you submit your Assignments to anyone other than the respective Study Center Coordinator, the School will not take any responsibility for any problem in this regard.

Specimen of COVER PAGE for Assignment

You are given a specimen of the cover page for the assignment (see page 24). It is mandatory to use the photocopy of that specimen as the cover page for your assignments to be submitted. Assignments without having such a cover page will not be evaluated.

Semester-end Final Examination

There will be a formal semester-end examination. The examinations of each course will be for three (3) hours and will consist of two parts.

- ☞ Part – A will consist of six (6) Broad/Essay type questions of which the student has to answer any four (4) questions. [Marks: $4 \times 14 = 56$]
- ☞ Part – B will consist of one practical case followed by some questions. It is compulsory to answer the questions of the case. [Marks: 14]

At the end of each semester, you can appear at the semester-end final examination only for the courses offered in that semester. You have the chance to appear thrice as much as at the semester-end examination for a registered course; once in the current semester and twice as much as in the next four consecutive semesters (after paying the exam. registration fee). In every case, you must submit the final examination registration form (use the photocopy of the form provided on page- 27) in due time according to the dates to be specified in the relevant Semester Calendar. If you want to avail yourself of the next chance to appear at the final examination, you are not required (or allowed) to submit the assignment for the second time. The school will preserve the assignment marks that have been obtained in the current semester. A student can appear at the semester-end final examination for six courses to the maximum in a semester.

NOTE: Total marks obtained by a student in each course will be converted into Grade Point (GP)

Calculation of Grade Point (GP)

For every completed course, the marks obtained by a student in respective assignments and semester-end examination will be totaled and these total marks will be converted into Grade Point (GP) as per the following table:

Numerical Grade	Letter Grade	Grade Point
80% and above	A+ (A plus)	4.00
75% to less than 80%	A (A regular)	3.75
70% to less than 75%	A- (A minus)	3.50
65% to less than 70%	B+ (B Plus)	3.25
60% to less than 65%	B (B regular)	3.00
55% to less than 60%	B- (B minus)	2.75
50% to less than 55%	C+ (C plus)	2.50
45% to less than 50%	C (C regular)	2.25
40% to less than 45%	C- (C minus)	2.00
Less than 40%	F (Fail)	0.00

The student will get an individual GP for every completed course. In case of completion of several courses, the 'Grade Point Average (GPA) of those completed courses will be calculated by using the following formula where the individual GP of every course and the respective credit of those courses will be taken into consideration:

The formula for Calculation of GPA

$$GPA = \frac{\sum(\text{credit of the course passed} \times \text{grade point earned})}{\sum(\text{credit of all courses completed})}$$

After each semester-end (final) examination, two Grade Point Average (GPAs) will be calculated for every student: (1) the GPA on the courses completed in that semester; and (2) a cumulative GPA considering all the courses completed so far by the student. His/her transcript for the semester will include inter alia the grade points s/he obtained in all the individual courses s/he has completed. Upon completion of the program, the 'Cumulative Grade Point Average' (CGPA) of a student will also be calculated by using the above formula.

Requirements to have the MBA Degree

Following are the requirements for obtaining the MBA degree of the School of Business, BOU:

- ☞ Successful completion of 60 credit hours.
- ☞ Obtain a minimum grade of C – (C minus) in each course
- ☞ Secure a minimum 'Cumulative Grade Point Average' (CGPA) of 2.00

About Redo Examination

Redo examination means Re-examination or re-appearing at the semester-end examination in the next available semester for improving the grade in the relevant course. Redo examination for any course is optional for the students who have got 'B – ', 'C+', 'C', or 'C – ' grade, whereas it is compulsory for the courses in which the student has got 'F' grade. If any student fails to appear at the semester-end final examination for any registered course in the current semester, s/he can also redo the course. However, a student can redo a course after paying the necessary redo examination fee a maximum of two times within the next four consecutive semesters after the semester in which the course has been registered by the student. If a student fails to improve his/her grade point after appearing in the Redo examination, the previously secured grade point will be considered.

About 'F' Grade in a Course

Retake A Course: If any student gets an 'F' grade in a course in the current semester, s/he has to redo the course within the next four consecutive semesters whereas s/he can appear at the semester-end examination for the course twice as much as only after paying necessary redo examination fee /re-examination fee. If any student fails to get at least a 'C – '(C minus) grade after availing (or without availing) or redo changes, s/he has to retake that course.

About Retaken Course

In the event of any retaken course, the student has to pay again the full fee for re-registration in that course. Since the passing of all courses individually is a degree requirement, the student with an 'F' grade in a course, after availing (or without availing) of redo changes, must retake that course in the semester when that course will be offered. A course can be retaken only once.
